

Self-Guided Diploma Program of Study in Process Work

Application Process and Form

Application Process

The applicant first must have a pre-application interview during which time the nature, conditions and requirements of the program are explained, and the applicant and interviewer decide whether this program is a the right fit for the applicant.

This program is for people who are:

- Self-resourced; able to put together the program they want, responsible for creating its content
- Into further rigorous learning and development
- Have a plan for development and learning
- Able to find mentors; aware enough of PW and community that they can find mentors

After the pre-application interview, the applicant must submit the following materials:

- Application form (see below).
- Essay answering the questions listed on the form.
 - Please send the form and essay in electronic form (either Word doc or PDF file) to pwi@processwork.org.
- Two letters of recommendation from Process Work diplomates sent by them directly to PWI at pwi@processwork.org. These should NOT come from the applicant's personal therapist.
- Application fee of $75 which may be paid by check, cash, credit card or wire transfer. Please contact PWI for details.

If these materials are accepted, the applicant is invited to a telephone interview with two members of the admissions committee.

Updated 05 14 13

Self-Guided Diploma Program of Study in Process Work

Application Form

Date of Application: _____

Name: _____

Address: _____

Telephone/Fax: _____ Email: _____

Date of Birth: _____

Academic Credentials: _____

Current Occupation: _____ Number of Years Experience: _____

Essay Questions

Please answer the following questions in a separate document and submit with the application form.

1. Please tell us about your exposure to Process Work, the area you would like to study, and your reasons for joining the program.
2. How do you intend to apply Process Work to your professional work and/or personal life, and how do you imagine this program supporting your learning and development?
3. Please write up a brief (500-1000 words) autobiographical statement, highlighting what led you to embark on this course of study.

Updated 05 14 13